Fr. Scott's Corner

One of the great privileges of my career as a priest is the work I've done with the young people at Mercy Home for Boys & Girls. During my many years here, I've seen the lives of countless children changed by the kindness and support they received while at our Home.

At Mercy Home, we have a motto: to give our young people both roots and wings. This motto is symbolized by a tree because we want our boys and girls to have solid roots, deep in the ground, to create a firm foundation for the rest of their lives. These deep roots develop over time and with great care as we provide our children with an excellent education, a safe environment, food and clothing, spiritual and moral formation, therapeutic services, extracurricular activities, and, most importantly, compassion and love. All of these dimensions help our kids develop a strong sense of self and the confidence to envision a brighter future. For our young people to truly succeed, their roots must go deep. And with these roots they will one day have wings to fly, and the ability to reach whatever goal they set their mind to.

In one of the Gospel passages this month, Jesus speaks of a sower sowing seed in the fields. This is an image that would be very familiar to people who lived during Jesus's time. The seed, we are told, falls on all types of ground—rocky ground, scorched earth, and rich, fertile soil. The seed that is successful is the seed that lands on fertile soil and establishes deep roots in order to grow and produce wheat in abundance.

The invitation of this Gospel passage is for all of us to do all that we can to establish deep roots into the fertile soil of the loving heart of God. When we are in communion with the Lord and nourished by prayer, doing good for others, the sacramental life of the Church, and being a grateful person, we allow the roots of our faith to go deep and produce fruit. The Gospel tells us that when our roots go deep, we will produce a hundred- or sixty- or thirty-fold. We must realize that it is only with a firm foundation in God's love that we are able to continue the work of God through our gifts and talents.

Roots and wings is the motto of Mercy Home, but it can easily be a motto for all of us who live our Christian faith. We must develop deep roots so that we are able to fly and bring the good news of the Gospel to others through what we say and do.

As we celebrate the Eucharist together this month, I pray we all come before the Lord with grateful hearts and a deep desire to be nourished by His word. Through this, we are able to do God's work by being faithful to his will.

Partners in Prayer

Amani was used to not fitting in.

Maybe it was the hand-me-down clothes that were often dirty and too small. Maybe it was that she would never let anyone see where she lived. Or maybe it was because Amani was so embarrassed by her family's situation that she didn't talk much to anyone.

Whatever it was, Amani felt like she stood out like a sore thumb wherever she went. Growing up in a poor neighborhood meant nobody around her had much money, but even among the families in the neighborhood, hers was especially struggling. Her father left years ago, and her mother had a chronic illness, which meant she was too sick to work.

As a result, the family moved around a lot, staying in run-down places that were often infested with bugs. Sometimes they didn't have electricity or running water. And even when they did, it never stayed on for long because her mother didn't pay the bills. None of these places ever felt like a home to Amani.

As soon as Amani was old enough, she got a job to help pay for the mounting household expenses. Her older brother had done the same thing, so Amani didn't even consider another possibility.

Soon, Amani didn't see the point of going to school at all. She didn't have any friends at school and had never been a great student. The most important thing was working to help her family.

When her older brother turned 18, he moved out, leaving Amani alone with her mom. Without her brother's help, Amani started struggling even more. No matter how hard she worked, it was impossible to keep up with the bills. She and her mom continued moving from dirty apartment to dirty apartment. Amani was more discouraged than ever.

She knew something needed to change. One day after work, she stopped at the library on her way home and searched the internet for something, anything that could help her. And then she found Mercy Home.

Amani wasn't sure that we would be able to help her, but she was so desperate she decided to contact us.

Amani was pleasantly surprised to discover that Mercy Home was exactly what she needed. She soon found out that at our Home, she didn't have to worry about whether she would be fed each day or if she would have a warm, clean place to sleep each night. She no longer had to take on the burden of supporting a family.

Mercy Home also provided Amani's mother with resources that helped her find more stable housing and receive help with groceries and other household expenses. Not having to worry about her mother's wellbeing was a tremendous help to Amani's own mental health.

Amani was able to start going to school again and had the help of tutors to get caught up. And for the first time ever, Amani was able to make friends and truly feel part of a safe, stable, and loving home, thanks to the prayers of Partners in Prayer like you.

Thank you for giving children like Amani a second chance at success and a brighter future. You give our children the opportunity to overcome life's difficult circumstances and enjoy the security of a loving home.

Never boastful nor resentful, Love believes and suffers long:

Prayer for the Children of Mercy Home

Our Lady of Mercy,

We pray that you will guide, protect and bless all boys and girls who this day have a home called Mercy.

May they find the Father's mercy as we offer them our hearts in the name of your son, Jesus Christ.

May they see God's mercy in action through our love, prayers and sacrifices.

Prayer of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul.

Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart.

I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You.

Never permit me to be separated from You.

Amen

FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME - Year A

FIRST READING

A reading from the Book of the Prophet Zechariah 9:9-10

Thus says the LORD:

Rejoice heartily, O daughter Zion, shout for joy, O daughter Jerusalem!

See, your king shall come to you;
a just savior is he,

mEEK, and riding on an ass,
on a colt, the foal of an ass.

He shall banish the chariot from Ephraim,
and the horse from Jerusalem;

the warrior's bow shall be banished,
and he shall proclaim peace to the nations.

His dominion shall be from sea to sea,
and from the River to the ends of the earth.

The word of the Lord.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

I will praise your name for ever, my king and my God.

or:

Alleluia.

SECOND READING

A reading from the Letter of Saint Paul to the Romans

8:9, 11-13

Brothers and sisters:

You are not in the flesh;

on the contrary, you are in the spirit,
if only the Spirit of God dwells in you.

Whoever does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him.

If the Spirit of the one who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you,

the one who raised Christ from the dead will give life to your mortal bodies also, through his Spirit that dwells in you.

Consequently, brothers and sisters,
we are not debtors to the flesh,
to live according to the flesh.

For if you live according to the flesh, you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body,
you will live.

The word of the Lord.

GOSPEL

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew 11:25-30

At that time Jesus exclaimed:

“I give praise to you, Father, Lord of heaven and earth, for although you have hidden these things from the wise and the learned you have revealed them to little ones.

Yes, Father, such has been your gracious will.

All things have been handed over to me by my Father.

No one knows the Son except the Father, and no one knows the Father except the Son and anyone to whom the Son wishes to reveal him.”

“Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened,
and I will give you rest.

Take my yoke upon you and learn from me,
for I am meek and humble of heart;
and you will find rest for yourselves.

For my yoke is easy, and my burden light.”

The Gospel of the Lord.

FIFTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME - Year A

FIRST READING

A reading from the Book of the Prophet Isaiah 55:10-11

Thus says the LORD:

Just as from the heavens

the rain and snow come down and do not return there till they have watered the earth, making it fertile and fruitful, giving seed to the one who sows and bread to the one who eats, so shall my word be that goes forth from my mouth;

my word shall not return to me void,

but shall do my will,

achieving the end for which I sent it.

The word of the Lord.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

The seed that falls on good ground will yield a fruitful harvest.

SECOND READING

A reading from the Letter of Saint Paul to the Romans 8:18-23

Brothers and sisters:

I consider that the sufferings of this present time are as nothing compared with the glory to be revealed for us.

For creation awaits with eager expectation the revelation of the children of God; for creation was made subject to futility, not of its own accord but because of the one who subjected it, in hope that creation itself would be set free from slavery to corruption and share in the glorious freedom of the children of God.

We know that all creation is groaning in labor pains even until now; and not only that, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, we also groan within ourselves as we wait for adoption, the redemption of our bodies.

The word of the Lord.

the
WORD of GOD

GOSPEL

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew 13:1-9

On that day, Jesus went out of the house and sat down by the sea.

Such large crowds gathered around him that he got into a boat and sat down, and the whole crowd stood along the shore.

And he spoke to them at length in parables, saying:
“A sower went out to sow.

And as he sowed, some seed fell on the path,
and birds came and ate it up.

Some fell on rocky ground, where it had little soil.

It sprang up at once because the soil was not deep,
and when the sun rose it was scorched,
and it withered for lack of roots.

Some seed fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up and choked it.

But some seed fell on rich soil and produced fruit,
a hundred or sixty or thirtyfold.

Whoever has ears ought to hear.”

The Gospel of the Lord

[Longer Form: Matthew 13:1-23]

SIXTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME - Year A

FIRST READING

A reading from the Book of Wisdom 12:13, 16-19

There is no god besides you who have the care of all,
that you need show you have not unjustly condemned.
For your might is the source of justice;
your mastery over all things makes you lenient to all.
For you show your might when the perfection of your power is disbelieved;
and in those who know you, you rebuke temerity.
But though you are master of might, you judge
with clemency,
and with much lenience you govern us;
for power, whenever you will, attends you.
And you taught your people, by these deeds,
that those who are just must be kind;
and you gave your children good ground for hope that you would permit repentance for their sins.

The word of the Lord.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Lord, you are good and forgiving.

SECOND READING

A reading from the Letter of Saint Paul to the Romans 8:26-27

Brothers and sisters:

The Spirit comes to the aid of our weakness;

for we do not know how to pray as we ought,

but the Spirit himself intercedes with inexpressible groanings.

And the one who searches hearts knows what is the intention of the Spirit, because he intercedes for the holy ones

according to God's will.

The word of the Lord.

GOSPEL

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew 3:24-30

Jesus proposed another parable to the crowds, saying:

“The kingdom of heaven may be likened to a man who sowed good seed in his field.

While everyone was asleep his enemy came and sowed weeds all through the wheat, and then went off.

When the crop grew and bore fruit, the weeds appeared as well.

The slaves of the householder came to him and said,

‘Master, did you not sow good seed in your field?

Where have the weeds come from?’

He answered, ‘An enemy has done this.’

His slaves said to him,

‘Do you want us to go and pull them up?’

He replied, ‘No, if you pull up the weeds

you might uproot the wheat along with them.

Let them grow together until harvest;

then at harvest time I will say to the harvesters,

“First collect the weeds and tie them in bundles for burning;
but gather the wheat into my barn.””

The Gospel of the Lord.

[Longer Form: Matthew 13:24-43]

Sunday, July 26

SEVENTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME - Year A

FIRST READING

A reading from the first Book of Kings 3:5, 7-12

The LORD appeared to Solomon in a dream at night.

God said, "Ask something of me and I will give it to you."

Solomon answered:

"O LORD, my God, you have made me, your servant, king to succeed my father David;

but I am a mere youth, not knowing at all how to act.

I serve you in the midst of the people whom you have chosen, a people so vast that it cannot be numbered or counted.

Give your servant, therefore, an understanding heart to judge your people and to distinguish right from wrong.

For who is able to govern this vast people of yours?"

The LORD was pleased that Solomon made this request.

So God said to him:

"Because you have asked for this—not for a long life for yourself,

nor for riches,

nor for the life of your enemies,

but for understanding so that you may know what is right—

I do as you requested.

I give you a heart so wise and understanding that there has never been anyone like you up to now, and after you there will come no one to equal you.”

The word of the Lord.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Lord, I love your commands.

SECOND READING

A reading from the Letter of Saint Paul to the Romans 8:28-30

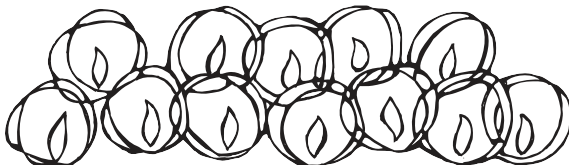

Brothers and sisters:

We know that all things work for good for those who love God,
who are called according to his purpose.

For those he foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the image of his Son, so that he might be the firstborn
among many brothers and sisters.

And those he predestined he also called;
and those he called he also justified;
and those he justified he also glorified.

The word of the Lord.

GOSPEL

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Matthew 13:44-46

Jesus said to his disciples:

“The kingdom of heaven is like a treasure buried in a field, which a person finds and hides again,
and out of joy goes and sells all that he has and buys that field.

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant searching for fine pearls.

When he finds a pearl of great price,
he goes and sells all that he has and buys it.”

Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net thrown into the sea, which collects fish of every kind.

When it is full they haul it ashore and sit down to put what is good into buckets.

What is bad they throw away.

Thus it will be at the end of the age.

The angels will go out and separate the wicked
from the righteous and throw them into the fiery furnace, where there will be wailing and grinding of teeth.

“Do you understand all these things?”

They answered, “Yes.”

And he replied,

“Then every scribe who has been instructed in the kingdom of heaven

is like the head of a household who brings from his storeroom both the new and the old.”

The Gospel of the Lord.
